There Are Now 1,003 Bills Before the Legislature at Madison.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 20.—So far as the number of bills pending before the Wisconsin legislature is concerned, all records in the history of the state have been broken. Two years ago a total of 910 bills were introduced. The last day for introducing bills by members closed last night and there were 1,003 bills in both houses. More will be introduced before the legislature adjourns as committees can introduce them at any time. The total number of bills before the assembly is 615, before the senate 338.

When the bill was reached on the calendar Senator Burns moved that it be referred to the committee on public health and sanitation. Senator Burns' motion was lost and the bill ordered to the third reading.

The assembly committee on health killed Assemblyman Eager's free lunch bill. The bill provided that saloons shall not serve free lunches and Mr. Eager was on hand to champion the measure. Assemblyman Zinn spoke against the bill and it was reported for indefinite postponement.

The committee on privileges and elections had under consideration Mr. Hall's amendment to the constitution allowing the use of voting machines in elections. Mr. Hall explained the method of voting by machine but the committee took no action.

NEW FISH AND GAME BILL.

Senator Greene Introduces the Measure and It Is Referred.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 20.—Senator Green, chairman of the joint committee on fish and game, today introduced the fish and game bill, which was referred to his committee, and furnish the basis of the annual game and fish bill to be prepared by the committee. The bill makes some important changes in the existing game laws and adds some new provisions.

Among the new provisions will be one making the state fish and game warden an officer of the state fish commission when working on fish preservation. Hunters will be restricted to 25 upland and 50 aquatic fowls which they can bring back from any hunting trip.

The provision of the statutes providing for from two to four deputy game wardens in each congressional district, is amended to make it two from each district and allowing the state warden to appoint his emergency and state at large wardens from any section where they are the most needed.

Any person who hunts any kind of game will be required by the bill to take out a license costing $1. The shooting of quail and pheasants is prohibited until 1905. The bill creates a special hunting license fund and requires that all moneys received from licenses and the sale of condemned game seized by the wardens shall go into this fund, the idea being to make the department self supporting. Duck-hunting on open water will be allowed from boats. The deer season is changed from Nov. 11 to Nov. 20, ten days later.

A closed session for rabbits is established from Feb. 1 to Sept. 1 and the use of ferrets in hunting rabbits is forbidden. Having a dog in the woods during the closed season for deer is to be a misdemeanor and the game wardens are authorized to kill all dogs found in the woods during that season.

WILD EXCITEMENT AT WINFIELD, KAN.

ARMED MOBS GATHERING ON STREETS OF THAT TOWN.

Temperance People Are Bound to Destroy the Saloons, and the Jointists Have Combined for Protection—Bloodshed Is Expected—Mrs. Nation Keeps a Limber Tongue in Jail

Wichita, Kan., Feb. 20.—Word from Winfield states that an armed mob is gathering in the business section. No effort by the police is being made to stop them. The joint keepers are armed and waiting, assisted by twenty from Kansas City.

At three o'clock five hundred people have promised to parade the streets of Winfield and immediately after the raiding is to commence.

The mayor has sworn in thirty policemen with orders to arrest any mob of more than six members.

Prayer was held at daylight in the wrecked Brethren church. There seems to be no doubt but that there will be fighting before sunset unless the saloon men give in.

Mrs. Nation Talks in Jail.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 20.—Mrs. Carrie Nation passed a quiet day in jail. She refuses bail and says the Lord wishes her to rest for a period.

"The Lord is making me take a little rest," remarked the joint smasher today. As long as he left me out of jail I could not be quiet and wore myself out. The Lord put me in jail, so that others might be inspired and take up the work where I left it."

"But don't you think that this is a pretty serious matter?"

"No," she said, smiling. "It's the success of my life."

"You have been criticised for making a disturbance on Sunday?"

"God tells us that it is right to do good on the Sabbath. The ox was in the ditch and I pulled him out. God never laid down a law that would obstruct a good act. It does not matter that I raised a disturbance on the Sabbath. It was a good deed and it justified itself. This storehouse of Moeser's that I broke into was the jugular vein of the whiskey traffic in Topeka. I tried to cut the jugular vein. That was right. It was a good deed to be done on the Sabbath."

Demolish Joint at Newman.

Newman, Kan., Feb. 20.—A band of thirty men and women, armed with hatchets and axes, made an effective raid on a joint here today. Some of the crusaders came from Perry and Thompsonville. The building in which the joint was kept was locked, and the jointists forbade the entrance of the reformers who thereupon broke in the door. They completely demolished a costly bar, plate glass mirror, and other fixtures.

JURY FINDS HAMILTON GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER IN FIRST DEGREE

End of the Sensational Murder Trial Which Has Been Agitating Flour City Society for These Many Months.

Minneapolis, Feb. 20.—The Hamilton jury at nine fifty o'clock this morning returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the first degree.

The jury recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court. Upon the finding he can be sentenced from five to twenty years. A motion was filed for a new trial.

The result was a complete surprise to Hamilton. After his return to the cell he refused to see anyone except Miss Johnson of Colorado who has been devoted to him through the trial.

Leonard A. Day, son of a millionaire lumberman, a social leader in Minneapolis, a young man with plenty of money and a lack of serious purpose, was stabbed to death in the billiard room of the West hotel at 2 o'clock in the morning, November 25.

Frank Hamilton, sporting editor of the Minneapolis Times, was immediately arrested, afterward indicted for the murder and was placed on trial February 4.

The murder, the strange stories of social degeneracy that caused a quarrel, the prominence of all parties caused a tremendous sensation and for months there has been an exclusion of all other topics of discussion in the circles in which these young men were prominent. Following the arrest came rumors that perhaps Hamilton was not the guilty one after all and from the circumstances and events the friends of the accused sought to weave a web of mystery for the confusion of the prosecution.

Day had returned from Europe a few days before his death. He had heard that his name had been handed about in uncomplimentary fashion by Hamilton. They had never met until the night of the murder. There was a violent quarrel in which the name of Miss Carrie Slagel, a young society woman, was mentioned.

Then came the struggle, the flash of a knife. The spectators rushed to the corner to find Day gasping in death, with a great gash in his throat. A knife lay on the floor.

Hamilton denied that he had killed Day although at the trial a policeman testified that Hamilton had confessed the murder to him.

BELOIT MAY NOT BUY WATERWORKS

The Appraisers Fail to Agree on a Price for the Plant After Long Investigation.

Beloit, Wis., Feb. 20.—E. C. Davis of Northampton, Mass., C. W. Kierstad of Kansas City, and H. F. Dunham, New York City, acting as a board of appraisers to fix the value of the plant of the local water works company which the city has an option to purchase at intervals of five years, disagreed after an investigation lasting three weeks.

Kierstad, for the water works company, and Dunham, the "third" man, set the price of $250,000. Davis, for the city, submitted a minority report, naming a price of $166,476. The price named in the majority report is $17,500 greater than the amount asked by the water works company and fully $75,000 more than the citizens believe that it is worth.

The franchise was given fifteen years ago, has twenty-five more years of life, and contains a clause which declares that the purchase price must be fixed upon the productive value. The city will not vote to buy it at the price named, but because of the refusal will have to stand the entire cost of the appraisal. The principal owners of the plant are C. B. and E. P. Salmon.

REPUBLICAN PARTY NOT PLEDGED TO THE PRIMARY ELECTION LAW

Speech of M. G. Jeffris in Opposition to the Pending Measure—Bill is Subversive of Principle—Would Strengthen Politicians.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 20.—The assembly chamber was crowded to the doors last evening to hear the arguments on the primary election bill before the joint committee on privileges and elections. There was only one speech, that of M. G. Jeffris of Janesville, against the bill.

Mr. Jeffris made a stirring address and brought out a number of new points that had not been raised heretofore in the arguments against the measure. Senator's Spooner's name was loudly applauded by the large audience that was present.

Mr. Jeffris was also frequently interrupted with applause and at the close of his argument was congratulated by both opponents and friends of the bill. He said in part:

Mr. Jeffris' Speech.

"That there may be no misunderstanding why I appear before you on this occasion you will permit me a moment's personal reference. I am not now and have no present expectation of being a candidate for any office. I am not a politician in any sense of the word. I am a republican and have been since I was entitled to vote. I belong to no faction. I have no axe to grind. There is no one who I want to oppose or whose purpose I desire to defeat. I represent no one but myself.

Party Is Not Committed.

"It is claimed by the gentlemen advocating this bill that the republican party is committed to its passage. This we most emphatically deny. That there was a plank put into the platform of the state convention for the passage of a primary election law is true. That it in any wise committed the republicans of this legislature to this particular bill, is equally untrue.

Opposed by the People.

"This bill is opposed by the people who are not professional politicians. I have not talked with a single non-politician who understood the provisions of this bill who is in favor of its passage. It sounds well to speak of

P. Morgan will be $1,100,000,000. There will be $300,000,000 of capital stock in the new concern, it is understood, half of which will be 7 per cent preferred stock and half common. In addition there will be $300,000,000 of 5 per cent first-mortgage bonds. Mr. Carnegie will get close to $130,000,000 for his Carnegie company stock, and the bondholders of the present Carnegie company will receive bonds for bond for their present holdings, which amount to $160,000,000. This will leave about $10,000,000 to be used for organization, expenses and bankers' commissions.

Alex. Galbraith who is in Manitoba lecturing and selling blooded stock will be absent for another ten days.

ALLEGED KIDNAPER OF CUDAHY JAILED

JAMES CALLAHAN, AN EX CONVICT, IS NOW IN CUSTODY.

Identified by Eddie Cudahy—The Lad Claims to Recognize the Prisoner By His Voice—Others Say He is the Right Man—More Clues Developing.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 20.—James Callahan, an ex-convict and a friend to Pat Crowe, is now in the custody of the police in this city, and has been identified by three persons as one of the men who kidnaped Edward Cudahy, Jr. There is no doubt, it is said, in police circles or in the mind of the boy's father that they have one of the guilty men. Callahan has been staying for a month with his sister, Mrs. Kelley, at Fifty-third street and Poppleton avenue, Omaha. Young Cudahy says that the prisoner is the man who accosted him on the street on the night of the kidnapping and told him he was the sheriff of Sharpy county, pretending to arrest him for a crime committed in that county. "I would never forget that voice," the boy said, "and I also remember distinctly his peculiar manner of pronouncing certain words. In his present talk he used these same words and pronounced them the same." He is also the man who kept guard over the boy in the cottage where he was held a prisoner. The man is further identified by five different people as No. 3 in the plot of kidnapping the Cudahy boy. Callahan was arrested late Saturday afternoon in a downtown saloon. The arrest was made by detectives, who took their prisoner direct to the office of the chief, where a private inquiry was conducted. Callahan was then taken to the city jail, where he has since been held pending further investigation. Chief Donahue kept the arrest secret.

Among those whose identification is especially valuable is that of J. N. H. Patrick, who lives in Happy Hollow, west of the city. Patrick says that Callahan is one of the men who came to his home late last summer to rent a little house that stood in a cornfield on the Patrick premises at considerable distance from the road. This house was the one fitted up as the prison house, but was abandoned after having been visited by the police.

When Chief Donahue and his detectives interrogated Callahan in the west box he admitted that he was a close acquaintance of Pat Crowe and that they had been on terms of intimate friendship for several years, but he positively denied all knowledge of the kidnapping. "I had nothing at all to do with it," said Callahan, "and the first I knew of the boy had been stolen was when I read it in the newspapers." If Callahan should prove to be one of the men who abducted young Cudahy it would be interesting to know what the police intend doing with him. A consensus of legal opinion is that he is amenable to no law. Citizens of Omaha had hoped that this notorious case was ended.

FRANCE WILL NOT HELP WALDERSEE

Refuses to Join in the Expedition Into Interior of China.

BACKED UP BY RUSSIA

Dowager Empress Now Ready To Yield to Demands of the Powers.

POLICY OF UNITED STATES

London, Feb. 20.—A Paris dispatch to the exchange telegraph says France probably under pressure from Russia, has refused to join the expedition in China planned by Waldersee.

Pekin, Feb. 20.—The dowager empress is ready to comply with all of the demands of the powers and the royal edict, punishing the guilty officials and otherwise carrying out the terms imposed by the foreign ministers, will, it is confidently expected, be issued not later than tomorrow.

The information that a strong military force of allied soldiers will start for Singan-Fu undoubtedly caused the dowager empress to heed the counsels of Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching, urging compliance with the demands of the powers. Chao Shu Choo and Ying Nien are the officials whose punishment has delayed a satisfactory solution of the trouble.

Compulsory Suicide.

Today representatives of the Chinese envoys asked of the foreign ministers if the compulsory suicide of Chao Shu Choo and Ying Nien, whose heads are demanded by the powers, would be satisfactory to the foreign representatives.

They added that if the ministers agreed to this an edict would likely be issued in a day or so complying fully with the demands regarding the punishment of the guilty officials.

Situation Said to Be Grave.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—The actual dismemberment of the Chinese empire is believed by many people here to be the real end behind the projected military movement announced by Count Waldersee. The situation is considered by all to be exceedingly grave, not as involving any possible crisis for the United States, but as the first fruit of a European understanding which has in view the immediate and complete destruction of the Chinese empire.

The cabinet held a long meeting on yesterday afternoon and practically no other question was discussed.

Conger Tells of His Efforts.

During the cabinet meeting a cablegram from Minister Conger was submitted referring to the proposed military expedition in China under command of Count von Waldersee.

It disclosed the fact that our minister had protested to the Minister's council against hostile movements of this character, but that his protest had failed to receive consideration, the other foreign ministers taking the ground that they had no authority to influence military operations one way or the other.

Attitude of Uncle Sam.

The outcome was as might have been expected. The United States will not participate in any way in the dismemberment of the Chinese empire. It does not seek any more territory in the East and will not accept any. Neither will it engage upon any murderous policy of retaliation. It believes that the Chinese leaders should be punished in a proper manner for their action of last summer, but it does not believe in carrying the fire and the sword through the whole country.

Chaffee May Be Withdrawn.

Having made its position clear in this matter, if the allied forces under the German and English agreement which is said to exist continue to push their expedition toward the west General Chaffee be instructed to withdraw the American forces entirely, or at least to take such action as to show the people of China as well as the rest of the world that the United States will not engage in any policy which means the taking away from the unfortunate Chinamen either their lives or their liberties.

IT IS EASY WORK

when you are well, to rub and scrub, but when the back aches and the head throbs, a woman's work is hourly torment.

No woman can be strong and healthy if she is the victim of those womanly diseases which are often responsible for feminine sufferings. Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of diseases of the womanly organs, say that work doesn't tire them any more. "Favorite Prescription" regulates the periods, dries up the humors, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," neither opium, cocaine or any other narcotic. "I had poor health for nine years (ever since the birth of my child) and was a nervous wreck, of Acme, Kanawha Co., W. Va. "Had female weakness, was very irregular and would suffer untold misery. Our family doctor did not do me any good and I concluded to write to you. When I wrote I had no idea that I would ever get well, but when your letter reached me I began to have hope. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and in a few days I began to feel better. I was soon able to do the work for my family of six. I think there never were such medicines in the world. I took eight bottles of "Favorite Prescription" and five of "Golden Medical Discovery" and two vials of "Pellets." AMUSEMENT NOTES

The Red Cat.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you," is the guiding axiom of the theatrical world today. Our serious ancestors were fond of sombre tragedies but the present generation seeks relief from the social pressure of this commercial age in the lighter forms of entertainment. This is the explanation for the phenomenal success of that latest and funniest of farces, "The Red Cat," that comes to the Myers Grand on Thursday, Feb. 21. The warp and woof of this farcical fabric may be said to be woven from laughter and sunshine if this ethereal metaphor is permissible. It is literally what its clever author, Mr. Mark Swan, calls it, "an effervescent ecstasy," for it is a series of brilliant bubbles like a sparkling glass of champagne. The scenes are all laid in the Red Cat Inn, where the guests raise more trouble in one hour than a political convention does in three days. The piece is all fun and frolic. The company of clever farceurs includes such well known New York favorites as Mr. Lew H. Newcomb, Mr. Frederick T. Rummel, Mr. Fred G. Hearn, Mr. Roy Foster, Miss Dorothy Deane, Miss Franklin Gale, Miss Alice Williams, Wallace West and Mark E. Swan, the author. "The Red Cat" has been accorded the laurel wreaths of popularity and is generally conceded to be the funniest farce on the road this season.

"The Belle of New York" needs no introduction to theater goers. Everyone knows of its phenomenal success in London where it was presented nightly for nearly two years at the Shaftesbury theater. It will be good news to the theater going public of this city to learn that "The Belle of New York" will be on view at the Myers Grand next Monday for one night. The company which will be seen here is the same with a few minor changes. Miss Beulah Dodge will be seen as the pretty Salvation lassie and the other well known characters will be in the hands of such capable persons as E. J. Connelly, Arthur Deagon, Geo. Tallman, Jas. Darling, Joseph Kane, the Larry Mae Saylor, Grace Rutledge, and La Belle Dacia.

Wisconsin Weather Forecast.

Fair tonight, Thursday.

IOWA'S FALSE ECONOMY.

The great state of Iowa, with its progressive intelligence, is very poorly represented in some of its administrative departments and especially in the care of its state institutions. Three or four years ago the state adopted the Wisconsin system, and in place of local boards for the management of the several institutions, appointed a board of control. The board was composed of three men instead of five and in order to insure the selection of good men for the work, the salaries fixed were much more liberal than in Wisconsin. The personnel of the board is not pertinent, but the work of the board is open to criticism, and the good state of Iowa is suffering and her charitable and philanthropic work is being handicapped by a board whose sole mission seems to be the saving of money.

The state has one of the largest and best equipped schools for deaf in the country, numbering some six hundred pupils. One of the first acts of the board was to cut the salary list of the teachers about fifty per cent, failing to recognize the important fact, that long training and experience is necessary to this class of teachers. The school was crippled in proportion, and the only compensation was the saving of a few thousand dollars.

The state had an industrial home for the blind where about fifty blind men were furnished shelter and employment. Investigation showed that the home was not self supporting, and so these three wise men closed it up and turned the inmates loose with a pittance of money, to shift for themselves.

The State School for the Blind is located at Vinton, with about 175 scholars. This school has been crippled almost beyond recognition, and the latest act of the board is to vote to close it March 31, instead of June 30, three months ahead of time, because they lacked the wisdom and foresight to properly provide for its maintenance through the school year.

The people of Iowa are not in sympathy with this sort of management, or with these false notions of economy. The state has several million dollars invested in property and buildings for the care and education of its dependent classes. The people of Iowa are not only intelligent, but humane, but they are so unfortunate as to be represented by public servants who appear to be lacking both in intelligence and humanity.

Any authority that will close a state institution, and turn adrift 175 inmates, with no better reason than the flimsy excuse offered for closing the Vinton school, is open to severe censure and criticism, and Governor Shaw cannot employ his time to any better advantage than by calling the state board to account. He will find public sentiment with him on all such issues. The state of Iowa has no disposition to speculate on misfortune, and the blind of the state are entitled to better treatment.

Wisconsin is fortunate in having, not only an intelligent, but a humane board. Her institutions rank with the best in the land, and it is largely due to the fact that they are managed by a practical board, possessing good common sense. The Iowa board is altogether too erratic for intelligent work, and her state institutions are suffering in consequence.

WHY SO MUCH HASTE?

The enthusiastic friends of the Primary Election bill are gaining nothing by the undue haste that characterizes their movements.

They seem impressed with the notion that the sole and only mission of the present legislature is to enact a primary law, and that in some mysterious way the result will be a panacea for all the ills of life, both public and private. This sort of haste invites suspicion, and people are already asking the cause, and saying, "better kill the measure."

If the law is good it will bear the closest investigation, and successful defense against the sharpest criticism. If it is not good, the time to find it out is before its passage.

The senate is composed of a conservative class of men, who do their own thinking, and will not be carried off their feet by enthusiasm for a measure of doubtful expediency. One of the most conservative members said to a Gazette representative recently: "The bill stands no chance of passage and is doomed to defeat."

This man thought he knew the majority sentiment of the senate, and if he does, the friends of the bill will be obliged to resort to other argument than hasty legislation to win the support necessary to success.

The cold facts concerning the bill are simply these. Ninety per cent. of the people of the state know nothing about the bill, and care less. They have never been corrupted by politics, either directly or indirectly, and are not in mortal terror of political contamination. If it was submitted to the people today, it would be voted out five to one.

If the principles of the law are right, put them before the people intelligently, and then permit the people to say what they want. Nothing is to be gained by hasty action.

THE NEW SENTINEL.

The loyal ring in the announcement of the Milwaukee Sentinel in its first issue under the new management, is very gratifying to the rank and file of the republican party throughout the state, and strikes a responsive chord with the republican press of the state. Many papers of this class have heretofore looked in vain to The Sentinel for the initiative in advocating party measures, that seemed of vital importance. They have been without organization, and their efforts have lacked the force of concerted action, largely because the leading party paper in the state was too erratic to be a safe leader. The Sentinel has had too many personal axes to grind and too many imaginary foes to punish, to command the respect or support of the state party press.

The new management will find a rural contingency that not only endorses the principles set forth in their announcement, but that is always ready to encourage every effort to advance party welfare.

The action of Janesville business men on the "Hall railroad bills" should be followed by the business men throughout the state. There are some men whose propositions it is safe to oppose on general principles and Mr. Hall appears to be one of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrie Nation were not divorced at last reports. Mr. Nation is fast becoming a little weary of doing the house work and is talking something about desertion. Mrs. Nation prefers outdoor work and will continue to saw wood.

By a close vote of 15 to 14 the Cuban convention has made it possible for General Young to become president of the island republic. He should consider this as a mark of respect and confidence in his ability.

If Green Bay can secure a library donation from Mr. Carnegie Janesville should do as well.

Congressman Babcock refuses to call the billion dollar steel trust an infant industry. So say we all of us.

Hazing has been stopped at Lansing, Mich. The "haze" had a gun and he knew how to use it.

Hawaii ought to have a representative who is not liable to such grave misapprehensions.

The powers have decided to grant the Boxers their choice of suicide methods.

Janesville ought to obtain the library receipt from Green Bay.

Delavan is rid of the cigarette but not yet of Addicks.

JAMES H. TETTATON HANGED.

Executed at Poplar Bluff, Mo., for the Murder of His Stepmother.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Feb. 20.—James H. Tettaton was executed at Kennett for the murder of his stepmother, Mrs. Jane Tettaton, and her four children, near Malden, on the night of April 25, 1899. The condemned man exhibited wonderful nerve and went to his doom without a tremor. The drop fell at 2:04 o'clock this afternoon, the fall breaking his neck and death being almost instantaneous. At the scaffold the murderer made a full confession of his crime. Without hesitancy and with remarkable calmness he had plotted with two other persons to get his stepmother and children out of the way to stop the troubles he had had in court with her. He admitted being the instigator of the awful crime, but denied participating in the murder. He asserted that two men he had hired shot and killed the woman and children and then set fire to their house to wipe out all evidence of the crime.

Empty Sleeves in England.

A pitiable question of fashion has just been decided in England. There are so many officers each of whom lost an arm in South Africa that the question came forward how the empty sleeve should be worn. Fashion has decided it, and the empty sleeve, fitted with the full shirt sleeve, the cuff showing, must be worn pinned to the breast.

SCHOOLS WILL BE CLOSED ON FRIDAY

Washington's Birthday To Be Observed by Pupils—Birthday Club at the Jefferson School.

Washington's birthday will be observed at the Jefferson school tomorrow as Friday is a legal holiday and the schools throughout the city will be closed. The specific exercises will be left largely to the discretion of the teachers, each of whom has her own individual plan for making the occasion interesting.

In one of the grades at this building all anniversaries are looked after by the birthday club, a volunteer organization of six members.

These young people keep a watchful eye out for birthdays and when they come across important ones like those which occur this month they collect data which if amplified would make a respectable biography.

A portrait of the individual, a cut of his birthplace, or later home, scenes from his life, etc., are brought in and mounted on card for careful preservation. If it is a poet or other writer selections from his works are read, and if a statesman or warrior, brief sketches of his special services to his country are given.

This makes an agreeable program which occupies the first period after the opening exercises. The teacher supervises, but the main work is done by the pupils themselves. So by the time that they pass into the eighth grade they are pretty thoroughly posted on all the anniversaries which are generally observed and have a store of anecdote connected with noted American names which are a valued permanent possession.

At the other buildings in the city some sort of observance will be made of the 22nd.

MATINEE RACING ON THE GAS POND

Some of the Trotters and Pacers That Take Part in the Spirited Races on the Ice.

The matinee racing over the ice on the gas pond during the last week has furnished pleasant entertainment for a large number of our citizens who enjoy the excitement of friendly racing contests.

Among the prominent owners of fast trotters and pacers who take a leading part in the sport is Albert Schaller, who is always in the first flight with his handsome steady going bay gelding. The finishes between Schaller and J. W. Huginn who is driving his fast horse Bell Skinner 2:29 1/4 were close enough to enthrall all onlookers.

Mr. C. J. Millmore drives a smooth going pacer and Mr. Frank Huginn has a promising young mare, their principal competitor being H. D. McKinney with his Howe colt. Mr. McKinney also has a rapid smooth going little pacer "Dandy Dave" that is quite a favorite with the crowd.

Albert Jones, the popular tobacco dealer is shaping up his handsome mare and will take the measure of some of the best very soon.

Quite a number of the "also ran" added much to the enjoyment of the spectators. The ice has been scraped this week and the course is now in first class condition.

A number of gentlemen from Edgerton that own some fast ones are talking about coming down and trying conclusions with the Janesville stppers. They are liable to make the local horses take a back seat as several of the horses owned by Edgerton have fast records and are in first class condition for fast work. Nothing is more exciting than a fast spin behind a good horse over a smooth ice or snow track. The gas pond course offers the gentlemen everything that could be desired in the way of a good fast track.

GOLF CLUB PARTY WAS A SUCCESS

Assembly hall presented a handsome picture last evening, it being the occasion of the fourth annual masquerade of the Mississippi Golf Club. The number of musketers was not as large as in previous years, but the party proved to be an exceedingly pleasant affair, and many handsome and unique costumes were worn. Those in costume enjoyed the part of the evening set apart for their use to the fullest extent.

Masks were removed at 10 o'clock, and a number of surprises were sprung on friends, who thought they had every one spotted. Most of the gentlemen appeared in full dress, and a number of the ladies were in evening costume, which added much to the attractiveness of the party.

Smith orchestra furnished the music, and never played better. The stage had been banked with palms and ferns, which almost hid the orchestra from view. The dancers enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent, many quitting before the hour of 12 was reached, as Lent began at that time; but others who were not held back by the observance of the time, continued to dance until about 1 o'clock, when the party broke up.

Among those from out of the city who attended were: Herbert Hicks of Rockford; Miss Shattuck, Minneapolis; Miss Carrie Ranous, Berlin; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ranous, Fond du Lac; Mr. and Mrs. Peor, Chicago; Miss Baker, Adrian, Mich.; Miss Julia Minton, Grand Rapids; and Miss Sawyer, Evanston.

Smart Midwinter Styles.

The two models from Vogue represent some of the most striking among swell fashions. One figure shows a long, loose cloak of pale castor cloth with turned back velvet cuffs and revers; a castor velvet and amazon plume picture hat and the long bear boa and muff which are peculiarly elegant.

The other costume is in hunter's green velvet, with jeweled belt, green beaver hat with black piping and sable around the crown, and a sable neck scarf with long ends and cluster tails.

Dr. Dowle has been arrested because two children died under his treatment. What about the children who die under the treatment of regular physicians?

LINE WILL BE BUILT WHEN SPRING OPENS

H. H. CLOUGH OF NEW ELECTRIC ROAD. IS HOPEFUL.

He Was in Janesville Today Consulting with Business Men Regarding the Right of Way for the Rockford and Janesville Line—Beloit is the Only Stumbling Block.

H. H. Clough of Elyria, O., president of the Rockford & Janesville electric line in company with Supervisor A. C.
Powers of Beloit, who is engaged in securing the right of way between this city and Beloit, were in the city today on business connected with the road.

Mr. Clough was here for the purpose of interviewing a number of prominent business men and manufacturers in regard to business interests connected with the proposed line and also to look over some ground and select the best route by which to enter this city.
He thinks that there is hardly a question but that the line will be built as soon as the spring opens up and permits the work to be carried on.
The right of way between here and Be-lois is about all secured. The greater portion of that yet to be secured are parts of estates which are still under the control of the county judge. This was one of the objects of Mr. Clough's visit to this city.

They have not as yet secured their franchise in Beloit but think it is now in a position where it will be granted.
Mr. Clough stated that if there had been no opposition to their application for a franchise in Beloit a year ago the road would now be in operation. The Beloit people had an idea that if they built the road that everyone would go away from Beloit and that no one would come back. Janesville was also one of their sore points.
They did not want electric line connections with this city, as it would tend to injure their business.

He was not certain that his line would have any connections with the road now in operation in this city.
The road in its present condition would be of no use to them and would have to be rebuilt. The rails are too light to carry the cars to be used on the new line and are not what they could make use of.

His idea is to ask the city for a franchise and build an independent system to connect with the inter urban lines.

WANTED A HOME FOR ARTHUR PETTIT

The Little Chicago Waif Has Been Returned to Supt. Kenyon—Chance to Adopt a Boy.

Arthur Pettit, the lad that was sent up hereby the Home Finding society of Chicago to Enoch Taylor and was turned over to Supt. of the Poor Kenyon on account of the agitation the sending of a white boy to a colored family aroused in this city, is now in need of a home.

Since the time that he was delivered to Supt. Kenyon the boy has been at the home of W. S. Pember, near Johnstown. Mr. Pember is much pleased with the lad and has nothing but good words to say in his favor. He has found him to be a pleasant well behaved boy of more than ordinary intelligence, who always conducts himself as a little gentleman.

On account of the ill health of his wife Mr. Pember has been forced to give up the idea of raising him. He has turned him over to Supt. Kenyon who is now looking for a place to put him. A number of people have spoken about taking the boy, but something has always occurred to prevent them from carrying out their wishes.
Anyone wishing to take such a boy to raise can find out all about the young man by calling on Supt. Kenyon.
He is a boy deserving of a good home and would please some family that would like a boy to brighten the family gatherings. This is really a meritorious case and from present indications as to the boy's character he will grow into a man who will be an honor to the people that take him to raise.

Supt. Kenyon will be pleased to see any one desirous of taking the boy and will furnish the people with all the information in regard to him that he has.

Will Bring Home a Bride.

O. T. Steve, manager of the Postal ning for Guthrie, Ia., where on Friday

he will marry Miss Lizzie Guttenfeller

keeping in a cozy home on Milwaukee avenue.

Mrs. Will Porter, who has been sick for the past five weeks at Miss Jones' boarding house, has so far recovered as to be able to sit up for short periods.
Her mother, Mrs. Barlow, who has been with her for the past few days, returns tomorrow to her home in the country.

Hanson will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the

A feature which should not be overlooked next Friday evening at the Be-kah masquerade, is the drill by a squad of Canton Janesville No. 9, I. O.
O. F., whose uniforms is, without doubt, the finest of its class, and their work
cannot be excelled.

Perhaps the greatest event of the season will be the annual Be kah masquerade at Assembly hall, on Friday evening of this week. The committee having it in charge say the request for invitations is greater than for many previous years.

The second presentation of the Katzenjammer Kids, at the opera house last evening was not as largely attended as on Monday evening. The company gives a first class performance, and merited all the applause they received.
Their specialties were good, and the players brought all the good things prominently before their audiences.

They walked into a rummage store
the other day, she full of confidence and assurance, he a little timid. Addressing one of the church clerks she said: "Say! John wants to buy a shirt to get married in, lost his wife two weeks ago, she was my sister.
He was awful mean to her, but I'm going to chance him, and guess I'll be enough for him." He was fitted out with a whole wardrobe and went home to repent.

greatest number of times these words could be squeezed upon a card. A microscope was called into requisition to count them. To ordinary eyesight or with the aid of a lens of low power the card is a complete blur. The

IT WOULD SHORTEN DISTANCE 9 MILES

Milwaukee Road Figuring on a Cut-Off Between Stoughton and This City
—A Direct Line.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad may build a line between this city and Stoughton in the near future to connect with the new Janesville and Southeastern railroad which will be rushed to completion as soon as spring opens up. A line of this kind would shorten the distance between Janesville and Madison nine miles and put the St. Paul company in possession of a short line between Chicago and St. Paul.

The recent visit of a party of officials of the road under the direction of A. C. Bird is thought to have been made with this object in view as some time was spent by them both here and at Stoughton looking over the ground.

Train men state that when the new line from this city to Chicago is opened it will be an easy matter to make the run in two hours, and as the present time from Madison to Janesville is only 55 minutes with all of the stops, it will be possible in the near future to reach Chicago from Madison via the St. Paul in three hours or a trifle less.

The St. Paul company may construct a line from McFarland around the east end of Lake Monona, connecting with the Portage road at Madison.
This cut-off would also save several miles, and some little plausibility is lent to the rumor from the tremendous earnestness of the company in seeking to shorten the distance between Chicago & St. Paul in order to better compete with the more direct Northwestern.

DR. E. D. ROBERTS IS KEPT VERY BUSY

New State Veterinarian Has Many Calls Upon His Time from All Parts of the State.

Dr. E. D. Roberts, state veterinarian, is a busy man these days. He is kept continually on the go investigating the different cases that are reported to him. He arrived in this city yesterday morning from the north, and left again at 8 o'clock last evening on another trip.

He has just returned from Manomanie, Wis., where he was called to investigate several cases of tuberculosis in the dairy herd of Jerseys at the county asylum farm. About two months ago
Dr. William Wilson made a tuberculin test of this herd, consisting of sixty-nine animals. Eleven of these reacted to the test. Dr. Roberts verified the conclusions of Dr. Wilson and ordered the eleven head of Jerseys killed.

A post mortem examination revealed the presence of the disease in every animal. In several of them it had reached an advanced stage. This was one of the finest herds of pure bred Jerseys in Northern Wisconsin.

REPORT OF STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

Issued Last Week—Contains Portraits
and Biographies of Twelve Rock County Attorneys.

The report of the state bar association for 1900 was issued last week. It contains the portraits of fifty-five deceased members of the Wisconsin bar
among them twelve from Rock county as follows: I. C. Sloan, Wm. M.
Tallman, Moses S. Prichard, Amos P.
Prichard, John Nichols, A. L. Kavlege,
W. H. Ebbots, H. S. Conger, John R.
Bennett, C. G. Williams, all of Janesville and Roger H. Mills and H. V.
Dearborn of Beloit.

The portraits are from fine uniform half-tone plates and add much to the attractiveness of the volume. One of the most slightly is that of the late Judge Bennett which suggests an idealized portrait of Abraham Lincoln, the features shorn of much of their ruggedness.

The biographies are nicely arranged, two lines at the beginning giving the date and place of birth and of death, so that one seeking these facts only need not look through the whole biography.

That the annual report is embellished by the cuts that add so much to its attractiveness is due to the personal efforts of A. A. Jackson, chairman of the publication committee.

CORONER IS MAKING AN INVESTIGATION

Death of Mrs. Hettie Bennett on a Farm Near Beloit—Will Be Thoroughly Probed.

Hettie Bennett, wife of James Bennett, a farmer living four miles west of Beloit, was found dead at her home yesterday morning as the result of a supposed criminal operation. Coroner Booth called an inquest and a jury composed of J. W. Bates, L. W. Kendall, George Gillman, W. H. Wonderly, P. N. Jenkins and Charles Menzies was impaneled. District Attorney Jackson was notified and went immediately to Beloit and conducted the examination on the part of the state.

A post mortem examination was made by Drs. Farr, McCabe, Fox and Bennett. Drs. McCabe and Bennett testified at the examination that they found that death resulted from a criminal operation. They testified that their examination showed that the head of the fetus was dented with a blunt instrument causing its death and its death was the cause of the death of the woman.

Her husband stated that she made a statement to him before her death that a female doctor had tried to perform an operation upon her. It is thought that the name of the doctor that tried to perform the operation is known but for reasons best known to the district attorney it is withheld at present.

After listening to the testimony of Drs. McCabe and Bennett, the case was adjourned until Tuesday next at ten o'clock in order that the husband, who is overcome with grief, may have time to bury his wife. The funeral will be held on Thursday at ten o'clock.

Mrs. Bennett was forty years of age and was the mother of four children ranging in age from two to ten years.
The circumstances which caused her to attempt this operation are shrouded in mystery. This will no doubt be cleared up considerably at the post mortem examination when taken up next week.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

THE HAZERS WIN A POINT.

United States Senate Votes for Leniency.

REJECTS EXPULSION PLAN.

Senator Wolcott Thought Congress Ought Not to Interfere with Boyish Pranks to Such an Extent as to Make Milksops and Prigs of Our Cadets.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Hazing at West Point occupied the attention of the senate. The debate took wide range. Senator Daniel (Va.) and others spoke in defense of what they termed boyish pranks. On the other hand, the hazers were denounced as "brutes" and "dogs," and Mr. Tillman apologized subsequently to dogs, because he said he had never known large dogs to fight small ones, as seemed to be the practice of the upper-class men at the military academy. Mr. Sewell called up the conference report on the military academy appropriation bill and defended the action of the conferees, holding that they had followed the instructions of both the senate and the house in reporting a code providing expulsion and other severe penalties for hazing. He declared that many people thought Booz was killed by hazing, and if there was anything this country demanded it was a law to prevent such a crime as hazing.

Mr. Wolcott Favors Hazing. Mr. Wolcott thought congress had entered upon a trifling piece of business. The enactment of the provision would make of the cadets milksops and prigs. He related some personal experiences of hazing in his college days, and remarked that some of the hazers won name and fame, while others went from bad to worse, some even landing in the senate of the United States. In conclusion he declared that for thirty-five years every West Point cadet had been hazed and in turn had been a hazer. Congress was not justified in treating the body of cadets like a lot of school children and in bringing them up as weak and enervated soldiers.

Conference Report Rejected. Mr. Daniel (Va.) opposed the conference report, and said he doubted whether there was any collection of 450 young men in the country which was not infinitely worse than that at West Point. He declared the proposed legislation was more suitable to the middle ages. The conference report was rejected: Yeas, 18; nays, 42. Messrs. Harris, Sewell, Warren and Harris were named as members of a new conference committee on the part of the senate.

Big Bill for Deficiencies. As the cap sheet of the enormous stack of appropriations piled up by this congress, the house committee reported a general deficiency bill carrying a total of $33,853,429. In the summary of the bill made by the committee this total is not at once apparent, as it foots up only $12,503,429, of which only $625,082.63 is on account of the military establishment. The bill, however, reappropriates for the military establishment unexpended balances of appropriations of former years, amounting to $21,350,000, to meet deficiencies in appropriations for the current fiscal year. The large items making up these reappropriations include: Pay of officers and enlisted men, $3,000,000; mileage, $200,000; subsistence, $5,300,000; quartermasters' supplies, $1,500,000; incidentals, quartermaster's department, $750,000; transportation of army and supplies, $8,350,000; clothing and camp and garrison equipments, $1,500,000, and medical department, $150,000. The bill carries appropriations for the navy aggregating $3,973,145.70.

ARE YOU PLUMP

or thin? red cheeks or sallow life in your step or feel your weight? are you comfortable or hoping to be so next spring or summer or fall?

One is health; the other is not-quite health.

This condition of not-quite health can be turned into health with Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

It is a pity to get in the habit of thinking of health as a thing to be hoped for; why not go for it now!

There is only one way to make strength: by food. You want appetite first, then food. The emulsion will give you food-rest, to master your food with.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & DOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

DEWET STILL MOVING NORTH.

Kitchener Reports That Pursuit of the Boer General Continues.

London, Feb. 20.—Lord Kitchener, commander-in-chief of the British in South Africa, telegraphing from Pretoria to the war office, under date of Feb. 18, says:

"Dewet is reported still moving north and now is west of Hopetown. He will probably double back to the south-west. The troops are prepared for this."

"A train was derailed between Vereeniging and Johannesburg this morning, but the Boers were driven off before they secured much."

New York, Feb. 20.—Consul Adelbert Hay is receiving a warm welcome from friends in London, says the Tribune's London correspondent. He is modest and reticent and talks like an honest neutral who has done his work with strict impartiality. He distributed 4,000 letters among the English prisoners and arranged money remittances for them, yet commanded the respect of President Kruger, Reitz and the Boer officials, and when he left Pretoria received the honor of a farewell dinner from a dozen burghers.

On the other hand, his relations with Gen. Roberts and Gen. Kitchener were most friendly, and the British prisoners were grateful for his timely services. He refers in the kindest terms to the leaders on each side and avoids any display of partisanship. Mr. Hay will spend a fortnight quietly in London and on the continent before sailing for America.

Indiana May Cause Trouble. Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 20.—The Navajo Indians are leaving their reservation and wandering all over the northern counties of the territory. DOINGS OF THE LAW MAKERS.

ILLINOIS.

Tuesday, February 19.

The senate passed bills as follows: By Just of Cook—Preventing the grouping in tax deeds of descriptions of property sold for taxes.

By Stubbfield of McLean—Providing for the marking of ballots cast at primary elections.

By Evans of Kane—Providing that the penalty attending the offense of wife abandonment shall apply to husbands who refuse to maintain their wives and minor children.

By Coleman of Fayette—Repealing the law giving a bounty for the killing of English sparrows. The house Mr. Trautmann offered a resolution for the creation of an educational commission, consisting of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the president of the University of Illinois, and five additional members, to be appointed by the Governor, one of whom shall be the principal of one of the state normal schools, one a county superintendent of schools, one a member of the senate, and one a member of the house. This commission is to revise the school laws of the state and report the same with amendments to the next general assembly. The members of the commission will get neither salaries, fees nor compensation. It was referred to the committee on education.

INDIANA.

Tuesday, February 19.

The senate of the Indiana general assembly gave a second blow to faith-curers and Dowdites by voting to accept a favorable report on Senator Wood's bill requiring believers in faith cure to call medical aid in the illness of children and dependents. The bill makes it a felony to withhold medical aid from children and other dependents when such dependents die for the lack of medical aid. The bill was reported favorably after a hot argument in the senate today. The prospects are now favorable for the passage of the bill.

The house passed the Cooper anti-trust bill. It is regarded as a harmless measure and is not nearly so drastic as Senator Agnew's bill. The house killed the bill appropriating $120,000 for the payment of the claim of Vincennes university based on the sale by the state of certain lands ceded by the United States government for university purposes.

MICHIGAN.

Tuesday, February 19.

Nearly 500 bills and joint resolutions were introduced in the two houses of the legislature, every subject imaginable being covered.

Among the more important bills were those abolishing convict contract labor, prohibiting the coliving of butler, providing for the taxation of incomes in excess of $1,500 as other personal property is taxed, levying a tax of 3 per cent on royalties derived from patent rights, providing for the inspection and grading of grain, increasing the aquatic tax rate of railroad companies and increasing the taxes of mutual fire-insurance companies of other states.

There was also introduced a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution under which can be enacted a valid law permitting municipalities to own and operate street-railway systems.

Swallowed in Quicksand.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 20.—The body of Alvis J. Hamilton, a prominent young merchant residing and doing business near Guin, Marion county, was found in a quicksand near that place, his head alone sticking out of his grave. His throat was cut and he had evidently bled to death. Hamilton lately wandered from home. He became lost in the quicksand, and, feeling that death was coming from exposure or suffocation, it is thought he cut his throat to end his misery. He was well connected, being a son of a former circuit clerk.

Rheumatism

Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest and distress from tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been poisoned by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustaining food they require. The whole system feels the effect of this acid poison; and not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease.

Mrs. James Kell, of 707 Ninth street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "A few months ago I had an attack of Scurvy Rheumatism in its worst form. The pain was so intense that I became completely prostrated. The attack was an unusually severe one, and by condition was regarded as being very dangerous. I was attended by one of the most able doctors in Washington, who is also a member of the faculty of a leading medical college here. He told me to continue his prescriptions and I would recover. After having it filled twelve times without receiving the slightest benefit, I decided to continue his treatment any longer. Having heard of S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) for Rheumatism, I decided almost in despair to give it a trial, to give the medicine a trial, and after I had taken a few bottles I was able to hobble around on crutches, and very soon thereafter had no use for them at all. S. S. S. having cured me sound and well. All the distressing pains have left me, my appetite has returned, and I am happy to be again restored to perfect health."

SSS the great vegetable purifier and tonic, is the ideal remedy in all rheumatic troubles. There are no opiates or minerals in it to disturb the digestion and lead to ruinous habits.

We have prepared a special book on Rheumatism which every sufferer from this painful disease should read. It is the most complete and interesting book of the kind in existence. It will be sent free to any one desiring it. Write our physicians fully and freely about your case. We make no charge for medical advice.

WOMEN WHO WORK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12.
Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. I have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.
MISS MARGARET WALSH.

McLEER'S Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

Omega Oil

IN OLD AGE—As people get old their bodies dry up, like plants when winter approaches. Their skin wrinkles and their joints harden. The back aches. The shoulders and arms get lame. The legs become weak. The feet are tender and sore. The natural oils of the body are exhausted, and something is needed to produce the strength and vigor that Nature herself supplies in the earlier years of life.

The best thing for this is Omega Oil. It is a god-send to the aged if ever there was one. It makes the declining years of life free from the pains that come as the days go by. Many a grandfather and grandmother find in Omega Oil the only thing that does their aches any real good. They simply rub it on their sore spots, and the pain stops. It is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for.

Never take a substitute for Omega Oil. If your druggist persistently refuses to give what you ask for, the Omega Chemical Co., 257 Broadway, New York, will mail you a bottle, prepaid, for 5c. in cash, money order or stamps.

A ONE SIDED TOWN.

Too Much Joviality For the Stranger's Peace of Mind.

"Say, now, but this seems to be a one sided town," he said as he stood before the sergeant's desk at one of the police precinct stations the other evening.

"Anything wrong?" asked the sergeant without betraying too much interest.

"Heaps of things. I only got here today, but more'n a hundred fellers he slapped me on the back or knocked my hat down over my ears, and more'n a hundred others he called me Uncle Josh, Cousin Reuben or Brother Hayseed."

"You are evidently no hand to take a joke."

"No, I'm not," replied the man as his face grew still more sorrowful. "I hev a lame back, a holler tooth and the earache, and on top of that I lost five hogs by the cholera last summer and had my barn struck by lightning. No, I can't take a joke. I was calkerlatin to stay in town four or five days and hev a good time, but I guess I'll go home tomorror. It's too jovial for me. If there ain't no law to protect a feller who has two sick cows, the old woman down with rheumatism and the hired man sufferin' from frostbites, then I'd better get right out of here. Is there anybody around here who can play 'Home, Sweet Home,' on the accordion?"

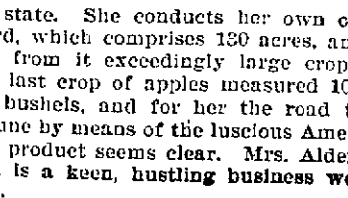

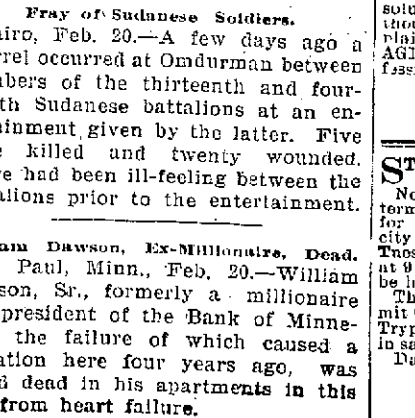

"I don't think so."

"Well, I hardly expected it, but I'd like to hear that old tune again. I did think of watchin' till mornin', but now I guess I'll go tonight. It's a one sided town—all runs to jokes—and no place for me."

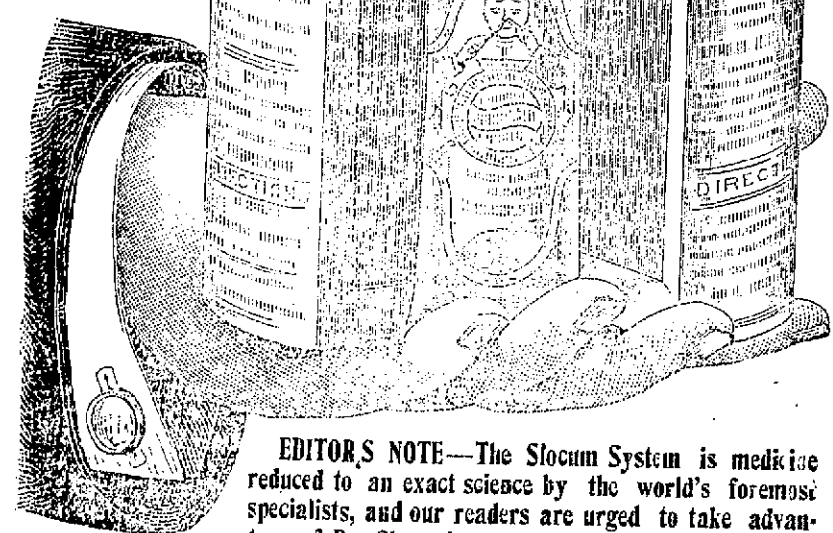

"As you are here you ought to stay over at least a day and see the sights," suggested the sergeant.

"I'd like to, but I dasn't. If I did, some feller would jump out from behind a launppost and tickle me in the ribs and call me Old Squash and make me mad 'nuff to fight. No; I'll start for home tonight and take my sadness along with me, and you can tell all the jovial jokers in town that they an ha-ha-ha and be hanged to 'em!"

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Slocum System is medicine reduced to an exact science by the world's foremost specialists, and our readers are urged to take advantage of Dr. Slocum's generous offer.

THESE FOUR REMEDIES

Represent a new system of treatment and cure, for the weak and for those suffering from CONSUMPTION, wasting diseases or inflammatory conditions of the nose, throat, and lungs.

The treatment is free. You have only to write to obtain it.

Its efficiency is explained as possible below.

By the new system devised by DR. T. A. SLOCUM, the great specialist in pulmonary and kindred diseases, all the requirements of the sick body are supplied by the FOUR remedies constituting his Special Treatment known as the Slocum System.

Whatever your disease one or more of these four preparations will be of benefit to you.

According to the needs of your case, fully explained in the Treatise given free with the free medicine, you may take one, or any two, or three, or all four, in combination.

A cure is certain if the simple directions are followed.

The remedies are especially adapted for those who suffer from grip, weak lungs, coughs, sore throat, catarrh, CONSUMPTION, and other pulmonary troubles.

But they are also of wonderful efficacy in the upbuilding of weak systems, in purifying the blood, making flesh, and restoring to weak, sallow people vigorous and healthy constitutions.

The many ailments of women and delicate children are speedily relieved.

The basis of the entire System is a flesh-building, nerve and tissue-renewing food.

Every invalid and sick person needs strength. This food gives it.

Many people get the complete system for the sake of the Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which they themselves need, and give away the other three preparations to their friends.

The second article is a tonic. It is good for weak, thin, dyspeptic, nervous people, for those who have no appetite, who need bracing up.

Thousands take only the Emulsion and the Tonic.

The third preparation is a medicinal healing cream, in patent Ozojell nasal tubes. It cures catarrh. It heals all irritation of the nose, throat and mucous membranes. It gives immediate relief. It is also a dainty application for sore lips, chapped hands, cold sores, rough skin, etc.

Perhaps many thousands of our readers need the Ozojell Cure for Catarrh without any of the other articles.

The fourth article is an Expecto-rant and Cough Cure. Can positively be relied upon. Is absolutely safe for children, goes to the very root of the trouble, and not merely alleviates, but cures.

The four preparations form a panoply of strength against disease in whatever shape it may attack you.

WRITE FOR FREE TRIAL.

To obtain these FOUR preparations, illustrated above, that have never yet failed to cure, all you have to do is to write to giving your address. The four remedies will then be sent you direct from laboratories. When writing the doctor please tell him you have read this in the Jessamine Gazette, and greatly obliged.

DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 98 Pine St., New York.

PRIMARY ELECTION BILL

a law that will put the nominations of the candidates directly in the hands of the people, but to describe this bill as one which puts the nominations into the hands of a machine or party boss would be more accurate and would not sound as well. This is advocated by professional politicians in the interests of the dear people. The study of it will convince you that any man who does not make a business of politics, who does not keep his spoon in the political pot all the time, would have no hope of influence in political matters.

Weakens Proper Politics.

"It discourages proper political activity where it is essential for the benefit of the state and nation, and forces politics upon the people where they should be entirely excluded. In state and national matters it weakens proper politics, and in municipal matters—where they have no place—it interferes them.

Power to Corporations.

"Under this bill great power is given to railroad corporations. They can organize enough voters swiftly and secretly to control every nomination. An individual would be powerless as against them. Under our present system they have never dared to take a hand in political matters. Where nominations are made on bare pluralities their means of organization are so great that they would be able to dictate. Corruption in one county under this law would affect the entire state so far as the nomination of the state are concerned.

"A serious objection to this bill lies in the fact that for a man to obtain any kind of an office he must almost of necessity go out begging for it.

No Demand for Such a Law.

"What demand is there in Wisconsin for such a radical change as is here provided for? Our caucuses are, as a rule, orderly, well attended, justly handled, and choose largely representative men as delegates. Of course, there are numerous exceptions, but on the whole we have done well. There are many dangerous features to this bill, and its so-called good features are entirely experimental.

"The last republican state convention nominated all of its candidate by acclamation. It was generally understood throughout the state that it would be done. No contests were made. The conditions were accepted by the republicans. Yet had this law been in force each officer would have had to go through all the steps required in the case of a vigorous contest—and probably everything would have been contested.

Effects of Present System.

"This bill will turn our so-called principles into a candidate's appeal for votes. The true American way is for the people to declare what they want and then select the men who are willing and have the capacity to supply that want. This is the natural method—it is republican in form—it is American. This system pervades every phase of our national existence. Under it we have grown from a handful to one of the mighty nations of the earth's history. We have grown from poverty to be the bankers of the world. We have grown from half-starved common laborers to a nation of mechanics, well fed, well clothed, well housed, well educated. We are an independent and self-respecting people—all can make themselves felt in caucus and convention. The instances of our representative betraying our trust are rare.

"Why then this radical change—where the need of pulling out and rejecting one of the foundation stones on which we have been building for more than a hundred years? Talk with your constituents—let them understand this bill—and my judgment is that you will find against it the best thinking people of the state."

FRANCE KEEPS EYE ON KAISER

Possibility of Germany Annexing Austria Causes Uneasiness in Paris.

Paris, Feb. 20.—Constant rumors of the imminent abdication of Francis Joseph, emperor of Austria, coupled with the success attending the German propaganda in Austria, are creating considerable uneasiness in France, where the eventuality of Germany's annexation of Austria is viewed with consternation, both on economic and political grounds. Alfred Rambaud, ex-minister of public instruction and one of France's most renowned contemporary historians, says: "For France the question of Austria constitutes a question of life or death. For every Frenchman it is nothing less than a question of daily bread." Coming from such an authority such a statement shows how keenly German intrigues in Austria are watched by France. Eclair today devotes considerable space to a discussion of the economical revolution the annexation of Austria by Germany would cause in the United States and in Europe. It says: "Such annexation would tend to keep Germany free from commercial dependency and the development of low rates and slave labor in the extended empire would enable Germany successfully to combat American opposition."

A Bear Experience.

Nearly 40 years ago I was sent into the northwest by a wealthy corporation in New York to examine mining properties in Montana and Idaho. The work necessarily took me away from ordinary lines of travel into the forests and mountains still occupied by their original denizens, the Indians and wild animals, from the terrible grizzly to the yelping coyote.

In the employ of the company were two brothers—Jim, a boy of 15, and Mike, a mature man. They were cutting wood not more than a mile distant from the camp. Jim, who had been up a brook a few rods, returned, rushing through the scrub, shouting: "A grizzly! Run, Mike, run!" and scrambled up a low tree. He had got his arms over a low branch when the grizzly caught him by the foot. In agony of fear he shouted for help. Mike saw the boy was being dragged down to certain death. Instead of saving himself by flight the brave fellow ran back and buried his ax to the helve in the bear, which, leaving his hold upon the boy, turned and crushed Mike with a single blow. The noble fellow had given his life to save his brother. Jim drew himself up to safety for the grizzly, unlike the cinnamon and black, is unable to climb. After killing Mike the bear rolled him over as if to make sure that he was dead and without returning to the tree made off with Mike's ax still hanging from his body and, although his bloody trail was followed for a long distance, was never heard from again. Such is the grizzly.

But all this is "another story." I commenced to tell of my friend who was treed. He will be designated by his professional title. For obvious reasons I name him the doctor. I can't tell the story as it deserves, but the reader will let his imagination work upon the facts I narrate. I think he will appreciate the case unless he is in the condition of the owl who could see nothing in the blue jay story of Mark Twain. In boyhood the doctor was my inseparable companion and through his life my dearest friend. At the time I was in the northwest he was living in Portland, Or. One of the ablest and most esteemed men in the new territory, he had been a prominent member in its constitutional convention and was as much beloved for the benevolent activities of his private life as for his public services. You can form some faint notion of the impression made by the story of the peril to which such a man was exposed when "treed by a grizzly."

It found its way into the papers. The doctor was called about midnight to a case some four or five miles distant, demanding immediate attention. He promised to follow the returning messenger as speedily as possible. He found his horse "dead" lame. Another horse had been turned out upon the range half a mile away. The night was dark. The stars were obscured by drifting clouds and a chill wind sighed the pines. It was a creepy night. This physician never counted the cost when called to relieve human suffering. Undeterred, he took a bridle, blanket and surcingle and started for the horse, intending to ride on from the range without returning for a saddle and thus save time. The way led through a bit of forest with much scrub. He was aware that there were still many wild animals about, but as they rarely ventured so near the settlements he regarded danger as a remote chance. He had passed the scrub and reached the pasture when he heard a noise as of some animal following him. He stopped and turned to listen, when in the darkness of the clouded sky he dimly saw a grizzly coming through the brush. In the gloom he seemed as large as a mile.

The doctor had seen enough. He knew the bear had no respect for character or person or the cruel inconvenience to which he was subjecting a fat man. The doctor was not an athlete nor was he accustomed to violent physical exertion; but, dropping blanket and bridle, he went up a pine with a degree of speed that would have astonished the most accomplished gymnast, and he did not stop until safely astride a branch some 20 feet from the ground. He thought the bear would soon leave, but doubted if even then it would be wise to risk the danger of another meeting by descending. There was no occasion to test the case, for he heard the animal still prowling around the tree.

At one time he thought it had gone, and he began to descend, but the bear was there, and, reared against the tree, was waiting for him. The doctor scrambled back to his airy perch. After awhile he began to realize the cold of an Oregon night. He was chilled to the bone. He could hardly hold himself to the tree while trying to keep up circulation by thrashing himself with his arms. Oh, if he had that blanket he dropped. He shouted his "coo-coo" until he could hardly hear his own voice. He was so cold that he thought it would almost be pleasant to feel the hot breath of the bear, even if crunching his freezing body. Every now and then he would call with what voice he had, although he knew it was useless. It was half a mile to the nearest house, and the transmission of sound was obstructed by the forest. But the doctor was too valuable to be left to freeze or to be killed by a bear. When he failed to appear at the house to which he had been called, the messenger had been sent back to hasten his attendance. He could not be found. An alarm was given and the neighbors, with lanterns, instituted a search. A faint "coo-coo" finally guided them to the tree in which the doctor was perched. As they approached he warned them to beware of the grizzly. The black heap on the blanket at the foot of the tree moved as the light of the lanterns was turned upon it. Up rose the doctor's St. Bernard, joyfully wagging his tail and waiting the approbation of his master, who slowly and painfully descended from the tree in which his faithful dog had guarded him for more than three and a half hours.—Exchange.

TIME CALLED ON CHINA.

Foreign Envoys Give Eight Days to Issue Edicts.

Pekin, Feb. 20.—The foreign envoys have given the Chinese authorities eight days in which to issue satisfactory edicts.

Shanghai, Feb. 20.—The Shanghai Mercury asserts that "the allies are preparing a move that will astonish China and quickly bring her to terms."

According to the North China Daily News the Germans are planning an expedition on the Yangtze Kiang.

Pekin, Feb. 20.—The foreign envoys have held a conference regarding the Chinese reply concerning the punishment of the guilty persons named by the powers. The reply was considered unsatisfactory and the envoys decided to insist upon a compliance with their original demands.

This decision and the objections urged by the envoys to the latest imperial edict were unanimous, and the dozen of the diplomatic corps will inform the Chinese plenipotentiaries that the former requirements must be strictly complied with.

Meanwhile great preparations are being made by the various commanders preparatory to the big expedition, especially in the matter of transportation. Apparently the only commanders who have enough of anything for a long campaign are the American, British, and Japanese. The others are deficient especially the German, although Count von Waldersee believes that in a few days he will have all the supplies really necessary. He takes the position that it will be better to secure the greater part of the provisions from the country itself, but most of the generals think it unwise to take so great a risk.

The British will rely almost entirely upon pack trains. Any other method of transportation through the mountain passes would probably be impossible, as, according to information received here, the Chinese have prepared for just this contingency and have blocked every possible pass with big boulders in order to render the passage of artillery next to impossible.

Many people in Peking say that Count von Waldersee is "working a bluff" in co-operation with the foreign envoys, hoping to compel the Chinese plenipotentiaries to comply with the demands of the powers.

Terrific Gales on Atlantic.

Queenstown, Feb. 20.—Arriving steamers continue to report having encountered storms on the Atlantic. The British steamer Lord Kelvin, from New Orleans Jan. 15, via Norfolk Jan. 24, for Hamburg, has put into Queens-town and reports having had a fearful voyage. She experienced terrific easterly gales for fifteen days, and her coal supply became exhausted and she was forced to burn portions of her cargo for several days. Almost
